

It is unbelievable to me that the FCC would even consider further relaxing media ownership rules. There is little enough diversity in media ownership at present. I strongly object to the proposed changes. The FCC should be strengthening media ownership diversity, not destroying it.